Davis Returning Home With Report On World Problems

New York, Dec. 16 (AP)—Norman H. Davis, America's "Ambassador-at-Large," sailed homeward today with information which may alter, at least in part, the country's future course in the world's three greatest problems—disarmament, the economic situation, and the Manchurian crisis.

At about the time he started his homeward voyage from Le Havre, France, yesterday, the League of Nations committee of 19 dispatched a resolution in the other direction which may have a vital bearing on future relations between the United States and Japan.

The resolution, sent to China and Japan for approval, was reported to include an invitation to the United States to sit in a commission to settle the Sino-Japanese dispute over Manchuria. Japan already has declared opposition to the project but this may not swerve the league.

Although officially in Europe as America's disarmament representative, Davis attended the recent opening rounds of the Manchurian debate at Geneva and therefore is in a position to advise the United States what its course should be.

In dealing with the other two problems, Davis who has been a prominent figure in various world conferences since President Wilson left the field, seems to have proven in error the old saying "America produces politicians, but Europe produces statesmen."

On this last three months' trip to Europe he succeeded, where Europe's vaunted statesmen failed, in effecting the only tangible stride toward disarmament. Almost single-handed, he brought Germany back into the arms conference—it had spurned British and French proposals—with a promise of "equal status" for the first time since the war. This, observers say, means inevitable reductions in other powers' armaments, since they agreed to its terms.

Davis further has indicated he will have an optimistic report to make to Washington on the chances of the Hoover anti-aircraft cut plan at the conference set for January.

If the world economic conference planned for London next spring proves a truly representative gathering and opens with a hopeful program, foreign government leaders have agreed it will be due to the preliminary work of Davis this fall.

Almost a stranger in his homeland because of his long absences abroad, Davis probably has had more influence in world affairs than any American with the exception of his father, President Wilson.

James I. Shotwell, an eminent international authority, has called him the greatest diplomat since Benjamin Franklin.

Seek Moratorium On U. S. M. A. Pictured To Kiwanis Club

Watertown, N. Y., Dec. 16 (AP)—State Senator Verley A. Pritchard, a Republican, said today he would introduce a bill providing for a moratorium on sale of property to satisfy tax claims.

Senator Pritchard, one of the most influential members of his party in the Legislature, declared that he would ask the Legislature to fix the moratorium at not less than a year. He advocates such an unusual procedure, he said, primarily to give relief to the rural sections of the state and help farmers retain their farms, hundreds of which have been sold under the hammer to meet tax demands.

Senator Pritchard has been chairman of the powerful judiciary committee of the upper house. He, however, will relinquish that chairmanship in the next session as the Democrats will control the Senate. The next session of the Legislature opens on January 4.

10 Killed, 100 Hurt In Big Department Store Fire in Tokyo

Tokyo, Dec. 16 (AP)—Ten persons were killed and about 100 injured today in a spectacular fire in the big Shinkwa department store.

The blaze originated from Christmas tree lights and spread rapidly through large stocks of celluloid toys. When it had been extinguished the upper five stories of the building were in ruins.

When the fire started 1,000 persons were estimated to have been in the building, of whom 600 or 700—mostly sales girls—were trapped on upper floors.

In the panic a few persons jumped from the building and were killed. Others were suffocated by fire fumes. Hundreds were rescued from the balcony of the fifth floor by means of ladders, ropes and canvas chutes.

Two hundred were huddled in the roof garden while smoke billowed around, but firemen finally arrived and rescued them.

Five army airplanes assisted by dropping rope ladders.

A battalion of troops, with fixed bayonets, held back throngs pressing fire lines and blocking traffic in the heart of the city for three hours.

The blaze was subdued shortly after noon. The seven-story building was left a shell.

In a message on the roof garden, two lions, two bears, and several monkeys were roaring or screaming, which added to the panic. All the animals survived, since the fire did not penetrate the roof.

The loss was estimated at about 20,000,000 yen (about $1,666,666).

Japan does not observe Christmas officially but it has become a popular day for exchanging presents. The store was decorated elaborately for the occasion. In Japan as in many European nations, New Year's Day is the principal day for gift-giving.

The building, constructed of steel and concrete, was in the center of the capital's shopping district and was comparatively new.

Commander Browning Answers Thompson

Editor The Daily Freeman, Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

There is to-day the statement made in the Thursday edition of The Freeman that R. L. Thompson has resigned from the American Legion. A careful reading of the membership card shows that to whom the name of R. L. Thompson is a member, to give the address of any Legion Post in Ulster county. There is no one by that name could possibly resign from Kingston Post.

I also draw on behalf of the Ulster county organization of the American Legion the information made in Mr. Thompson's article that Congressman Wright Patman represents in any way, either officially or unofficially, directly or indirectly, the American Legion. As a matter of fact, Congressman Patman is the spokesman for the Populist farmers of the southwest. The Legion has never endorsed any currency inflation scheme. The Legion has no more control over its members' money than Congressmen Patman has over the statements on the same subject made by Mr. Thompson in his article in The Freeman.

The American Legion is at the present time actively cooperating with a special congressional committee to rewrite all Federal laws pertaining to World War veterans; to the end that waste be reduced and to eliminate provisions of law unfair either to our disabled comrades or to our heavily burdened army of taxpayers. For instance, the certain provision alone of the veterans law that the Legion favors repealing would save the tax payers nearly $125,000,000 per year.

The preparation of the Service Certificate or so-called bonus has been and is yet the most controversial subject within the ranks of the Legion itself. Many of the leading opponents to the preparation of these certificates, both in and out of Congress, are members of the American Legion—and proud of it. Perhaps Mr. Thompson is unaware of the fact that of the nine Legion posts in Ulster county only one is on record for preparation of the Service Certificate, and many of Ulster county's most ardent opponents of preparation are active members of that post—and proud of their membership in it.

The American Legion is not only active in the care of the disabled veteran, his family and the families of deceased veterans, but in nearly fifty other humanitarian and patriotic fields of activity. "For Community, State and Nation: We serve; in peace as in war."

I am sure that were Mr. Thompson familiar with the actual work of the American Legion he would say "The Constitution is the soul of the American Legion." I therefore extend through your paper, a cordial invitation to Mr. Thompson to be my personal guest at the next county meeting of the American Legion.

Yours respectfully,

ROBERT F. BROWNING,
County Commander, American Legion.

Roosevelt Plan Gets Attention To Tempt, Lavish Sets And Humor For Revue

Washington, Dec. 16 (AP)—Roosevelt plan sponsored by the Senate by Senator Byrnes of South Carolina—to meet huge permanent improvement costs by long term bond issues—has attracted attention of Congress.

As a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Senator Byrnes, an intimate of President-elect Roosevelt, is advancing the legislation and hopes for a decision before the session ends.

This legislation is regarded as one of the key steps in the program of the incoming Democratic administration to balance the treasury books. It would transfer from the taxpayers of today the huge burden of balancing permanent improvements.

By making these expenditures through long term bond issues it is the belief of Democratic leaders that much of the short term government paper now in market would be disposed of and the way opened for new credit to industry.

Many Dancers, Tunes To Tempt, Lavish Sets And Humor For Revue

Kingston Junior League Promotes Varied and Colorful Entertainment at Broadway Theatre on December 21 in Junior League Revue.

Inviting a host of foreign themes to take the key subjects of Spain, the fascinating songs of the Latin, the Tarentine dancing, before entering the main part of the program, the Junior League will present a revue which was over the frozen lake, picture an entire program at 10 o'clock when the Junior League will present the Junior League Revue at the Broadway Theatre to obtain funds for Junior League children.

At the Junior League headquarters on Main street, John Hill is whipping into shape 140 dancing feet. The couples coached to present an evening of fun and frolic with brilliant costumes, tantalizing music, gorgeous settings, and all that goes to make up a good show.

An immense amount of hard work has been done to bring Kingston Junior League an evening of merriment, now difficult steps are well in hand and local talent has been trained to sing and speak with the professional finish of a polished company. The Junior League anticipates that it will be the best and most lavishly mounted production ever to grace a local stage. It is giving this creation for charity, but say members of the league, "we have the finest thing of its kind ever to appear in Kingston. It is worth more than our admission price—we ask all of you to see it and judge for yourselves."

A glance below will tell who will sing and dance in this elaborate display of local talent, for a local audience, in support of a local charity.

Schoolmen's Club Heard Dr. Wiley

State Assistant Commissioner of Secondary Education Talked on Contacts and School of Tomorrow at Dinner at The Kirkland Thursday.

Dr. George M. Wiley, assistant commissioner of secondary education of the state education department, delivered an interesting address on contacts and the school of tomorrow at the dinner of the Schoolmen's Club of Kingston held Thursday evening at The Kirkland. The dinner was largely attended and among the guests were the members of Kingston's education board, Superintendent of Schools B. C. Van Ingen, Principal Kearney of the Marlborough high school, Principal Campbell of the Highland high school and two of his teaching staff, Superintendent Morse of Saugerties and five of his teaching staff, Dr. Van Buren and Professor B. H. Martenson of the New Paltz Normal school. The next meeting of the club will be held in January and a committee was appointed by Principal Clarence L. Dunn of the Kingston high school, president of the club.

Mr. Dunn presided at the dinner which was held in the large dining hall of the hotel, and the first speaker of the evening was Principal Patrick H. Culien of School No. 3, who explained the aims and purposes of the club in a witty manner.

Dr. Wiley, the speaker of the evening, had motored to Kingston from Albany to attend the meeting, and his address proved of great interest to the members of the club and their guests. Dr. Wiley stressed the fact that fellowship played an important part not only in education but in life, and stated that the more contacts a teacher had with the more valuable he became as a teacher. He used to illustrate his point the experience of a young college youth who had come to him last summer and asked him how he would advise him to spend the vacation months. He had been unable to find a job during the vacation period as in former years. Dr. Wiley advised him to make a trip abroad. He said that the young man did not have much money, only a few hundred dollars, but Dr. Wiley said that it was better for the young man to make the trip without having a large amount of money as it enabled him to come in closer contact with the peoples of the land he visited.

In talking on the school of tomorrow, he said that he believed the methods of teaching in the future would greatly change. They would change as much as they have changed in the past several decades. More emphasis would be laid in making the young people aware of government and better able to cope with present day problems.

During the evening the members of the club and guests stood for a minute in silence in memory of the late Superintendent of Schools John W. Gillette.

The meeting was said to be one of the best held by the club since it was organized, and the committee who had made the arrangements were given a ringing vote of thanks.

Miss Host John J. Egan served the club and guests with a turkey dinner, which was excellently cooked and served.

Bond Issues During 1932

The following is a list of the bond issues since the first of the year which were authorized by the Common Council at the request of Mayor Carey:

July 15—Refund of bank tax. This is a 10-year issue to pay interest at rate of 5 per cent. $461,175.25

August 25—Emergency work relief. 10-year bonds to pay interest at 4.2 per cent. $150,000.00

Sept. 1—Work relief bonds, interest at 4.2 per cent. $5,000.00

Oct. 1—Home relief bonds, interest at 4.2 per cent. $0,000.00

Aug. 25—Board of public works, interest at 4.2 per cent. $100,000.00

Total to Dec. 15 $461,175.25

Propose for action to-night $140,000.00

Total with proposed issue $601,175.25

All these bonds are to run for ten years.

With the above bond issue the city is within a million and a half of debt limit.

The assessed valuation is $24,800,000 and city is allowed to borrow up to 10 per cent of that amount.

WIDOW OF GANGSTER SLAIN NEAR NEWBURGH

Newburgh, N. Y., Dec. 16 (AP)—After the questioning of several persons had failed to throw any light upon the death of Mrs. Rose Cargano, young widow of a slain gambler, police continued the investigation today.

Mrs. Cargano's body, with a bullet hole through her temple, was found yesterday slumped across the front seat of an automobile on a lonely road.

The body was identified by a lock of hair in her purse. All other identification marks had been removed and the license plates had been taken from the car. Police said the shooting apparently took place Wednesday night.

Her husband, Louis Cargano, 41 year old gambler, was killed last year in what police believe was a racist murder. Bullets of three different calibers were found in his body.

After his death it was discovered that there were two women who claimed to be Mrs. Rose Cargano, the one who lived in Newburgh and one who came from Paterson, N. J. to claim his body. The Mrs. Cargano of Paterson took Cargano's body. It was the Mrs. Cargano from Newburgh who was found dead yesterday.

SAYS STATE MUST RAISE $100,000,000 IN NEW TAXES.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 16 (AP)—New York state, in the belief of Governor-elect Herbert H. Lehman, is going to have to raise at least $100,000,000 in "new or increased forms of taxation" between now and June, 1934.

The prospect was set forth by Colonel Lehman last night, speaking at a dinner in honor of President-elect Roosevelt. In the course of his speech the next governor mentioned that the subject of state-wide local government debts, which this year required nearly half of the $276,000,000 state budget, is being given very close scrutiny and study.

The state-aid appropriation this year was $122,000,000, and Mr. Lehman said more had been asked for 1933. This money is given cities for local units to help pay for education, highways, old age relief and other functions of government.

Mr. Lehman, who is preparing the new budget for presentation to the legislature next month, said he could not express any accurate opinion of the financial needs of the state "until my figures are completed, shortly before the end of January."

BEER BILL READY For House Action

Washington, Dec. 16 (AP)—A vote to the House on 3.2 beer before Christmas was definitely in prospect today as Democratic leaders formed their lines to insure the bill's passage.

The House Ways and Means Committee approved modification of the Volstead Act yesterday to permit the manufacture and sale of beer of 3.2 percent alcoholic content by weight, and Chairman Collier planned to introduce his revised measure today for a vote Tuesday.

Provision to legalize light wines was eliminated from the original bill, but the committee agreed to consider a separate proposal, probably today. Representative Lea (D., Cal.) was asked to offer it and he did so last night.

Surprising both advocates and opponents by its quick action, the committee revised the original Collier Bill which had called for 2.75 beer to provide for the 3.2 brew and fixed the tax at $5 per barrel.

Collier estimated that if the brew is legalized $175,000,000 in revenue will be realized annually. No restrictions were imposed on the sale except such state laws as exist. Brewers' licenses were increased from $109 to $1,000, and a $50 annual fee imposed on wholesalers and $20 on retailers.

WALLKILL VALLEY R. R. ELECTED OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Wallkill Valley Railroad Company held in this city Wednesday the following were elected directors: Frederick W. Vanderbilt, Harold S. Vanderbilt, Edward Harkness, Charles E. Seger, Patrick E. Crowley, Jackson E. Reynolds, Myron C. Taylor, Raymond D. Starbuck and Frederick E. Williamson. Inspectors of election were G. N. Wood, J. F. Harley and F. N. McCutchen.

County Dairy Leaders Meet December 21

The Farm Bureau Dairy Committee has arranged for an all day meeting of all dairy commissionmen and other interested dairymen in the county, on Wednesday, December 21, to discuss the entire problem of milk marketing with Dr. M. O. Bond of Cornell University. The meeting will start at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and continue until 3 or 3:30. According to C. L. Allen, chairman of the county dairy committee, it is important for all those who plan to attend to be on hand promptly at 10 o'clock. Because of the large amount of material to go over, it will be impossible to repeat very much of it.

The plan is to have Dr. Bond present as much available information as time will permit regarding various phases of milk marketing and then discuss the matter thoroughly. The conclusions arrived at will be further discussed at local meetings to be held during the coming winter. All dairymen interested in the marketing problem are invited to this meeting on December 21.

Cold Wave in Large Section of Nation

Four Persons Reported Dead in Chicago—Fires Add to The Discomfort of The Elements.

(By The Associated Press)

The icy grip of winter's advance attack held firmly in a large section of the nation today, with the east and the Great Plains states of the midwest bearing the brunt of the suffering it entailed.

Temperatures ranging all the way from just above zero to 15 below were common throughout the midwest. In Chicago four persons were reported dead and squatters and other homeless were hard hit. Emergency welfare workers were spurred to greater efforts to bring relief to the jobless.

Fires added to the discomfort of the elements. In Chicago fifteen unpaid firemen were overcome by smoke last night in fighting a fire in a brick storehouse in the stockyards district. At Milwaukee fourteen inmates of a home for the aged were driven by fire into the streets, where the thermometer reading was five below.

Ice blocks in the Great Lakes made navigation hazardous. The fishing tur. Gorman, sank in the harbor at Erie, Pa., last night, after an ice-breaking trip to clear the way for the return to safety of ice-bound fishermen. The crew escaped.

Slight moderation in temperatures was promised for some sections of the midwest, but in Chicago and Kansas City they were sagging as they were throughout the east. Pennsylvania reported unofficial figures of 1 to 20 above, with three killed in coasting accidents. New York had 20 above, but the movement was downward.

22 Hunting Season Deaths Were Reported

Albany, Dec. 16—Twenty-two fatalities marked the fall hunting season in the state of New York this year, according to final hunting accident statistics compiled by the Conservation Department.

Two of these deaths were the result of heart attacks, two were caused by drowning and the other eighteen were due to gunshot wounds.

Of the 15 killed by bullets, eight were shot by companions, seven were shot by their own guns, and three were struck by stray bullets the origin of which is unknown.

Twenty of those killed were hunting at the time of their death, but one was killed by the accidental explosion of his own rifle while preparing to go hunting and one was shot to death upon his return from hunt when a three-year-old child touched the trigger of his gun.

Ten of those killed in the field were hunting deer at the time, three were hunting rabbits, two were hunting ducks, one was hunting bear, three were hunting pheasants and one was hunting other birds. The larger number of fatalities due to deer hunting is because high powered rifles are used in this sport while shotguns are used to shoot other game. Two of the ten deer hunters who died, however, were drowned when their boat capsized after they had fired their guns simultaneously.

In addition to those killed 85 persons were injured by firearms during the hunting season, some of them seriously.

MODENA

Modena, Dec. 16—Residents of this community were saddened to learn of the death of John U. Gillette of Port Ewen, which occurred in Utica on Saturday. As district superintendent of schools in this section, he was a familiar figure in the schools, highly respected by the teachers and students alike, who keenly regret the passing of so excellent a friend and advisor.

Winter was ushered in Sunday with the first real snowfall of the season. Roads were open to traffic during the storm and afterwards, by the efficient work of the department of highways.

Members of the Plattkill Rod and Gun Club will hold their regular meeting Tuesday evening, January 2, in the Community Hall. Discussions relating to the hunting season of foxes will be made at this time.

Rehearsals for Christmas entertainments are well underway by committees in charge of their presentation. The Tri-mu Class of the Sunday school will sing Christmas Carols on Christmas eve.

It's all in knowing how

Sure, you can stand on your hands if you practice enough. But don't practice on yourself when you're constipated. Get a box of Feen-a-mint next time you need a laxative. It's delicious chewing gum and simply because you chew it, all the laxative works every time. It's thorough yet gentle because it is evenly distributed the way modern science knows a good laxative ought to be. Safe. Non-habit-forming. Economical. At all druggists.

Feen-a-mint

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Dec. 16—Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Auchmoody and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Countryman and son of Kerhonkson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rosenkrance on Thursday.

At the regular chapel period of the Normal School on Tuesday, December 13, the program began by singing "O Come All Ye Faithful," assembly; Bible reading from the Book of Isaiah, Miss Esther Bensley; the Lord's Prayer; announcements, Miss Bensley. The special number consisted of a group of readings by members of Miss Helena Olds's oral expression class. While the Christmas number of the Palatone was distributed and the assembly was dismissed, the orchestra played "Jingle Bells," a march.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rosenkrance and children and Mrs. Oliver Auchmoody motored over the Trap mountain and called on friends in Kerhonkson recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram E. Jansen have been entertaining guests.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Nostrand recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ashton.

Miss F. Winchester of Highland and Joseph Ferris of Syracuse were recent guests in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rosenkrance were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Countryman on Sunday.

Howard B. Hoffman is ill at his home on Wurts avenue.

Peter Rosenkrance was a business caller in Poughkeepsie on Wednesday.

Miss Helen Gray was supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Hoffman and family on Wednesday evening.

FIRE DAMAGES MC DOWELL STABLES IN ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, Dec. 16—Fire broke out in the McDowell stables on North Main street at about 4:30 Thursday afternoon. Two alarms were sent in and all three fire companies responded. Within a half hour from the time the alarm was sounded the entire front of the building was a mass of flames and the roof collapsed. Hay stored in the loft was probably the cause of the rapid spread of the flames. Considerable damage was done to the building, one of Ellenville's landmarks, which was partially covered by insurance.

Soviet Short Work Day Gains.

Moscow (P)—Hailing the fifth anniversary of the decree establishing the 7-hour working day, the Soviet press says that 86.4 per cent of heavy industry is on that schedule, 91 per cent of light industry and 34 per cent of transport, giving a general average of 71.8 per cent.

Loyalty's Great Value

Loyalty is a virtue that covers many shortcomings. For the man who is loyal to his friends, to his job, to his ideals is absolutely dependable. He may make mistakes, but he will never quit. And in the pinch an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness.—Grit.

ACCESSORIES ARE HIGHLY IMPORTANT

Little Things Give Character to Costume.

Now it is the little things that give character to the costume. This season's gowns, so simple in effect, so delicate in architecture, are made accessories more important than ever before. From buttons to a variety of wearable items, little things, so called, are being created for the individual type and in relation to the ensemble. Some of these accessories are practical; others are frivolous.

In the practical class are included matching bags and slippers, neckerchiefs, belts, new sweaters and summer scarfs. A cardigan for college folk is hand-knitted of the same famed Shetland wool that is woven into the famous tweeds of that name. And from Lucile Farrow comes a little sleeveless waistcoat of white wool in the original waffle weave.

Combining both the practical and frivolous is a think capelet with muff of the same fur. Another set shows tilted cap and small muff of silver fox in an elegant and flattering accessory.

CONTRAST BODICE By CREME NICHOLAS

Outstanding among latest evening fashions is the two-piece which consists of a dark skirt and a light bodice which stops at the waistline. The picture shows a handsome combination of white satin for the bodice with black velvet for the skirt portion. Another combination which is frequently noted at smart gatherings is the black velvet skirt topped with a simple waist-depth bodice of colorful mink cloth or that which is even more conspicuously new—the bodice entirely covered with glittering sequins.

STYLE NOTES

Skirts are decidedly narrow. The border theme is stressed in advance prints. Hyacinth blue shades are attracting attention. Many velvet wraps feature detachable fur collars. Extreme luxury in furs is keynote to winter fashions. Tight shoulder lines with sleeve fullness posed below is new trend. Fur-trimmed tunics of supple metal cloth appear in the evening mode. Velvet trimmings in belts, collars and hats are used.

Velvet, as Trimming, Is High Spot of the Mode

Velvet, as trimming, is one of the high spots of this year's Paris fashions. The French designers find it an excellent balance for materials of all types, from chiffon to tweed, and for dresses that are worn from morning to midnight.

One of its favorite uses this year is to ornament dresses which are meant to be kept in a single color. The all-red or all-brown dress becomes more distinguished once it incorporates a touch of velvet somewhere in its make-up, whether as a sash, a loose bow, or an incrustated robe.

Weighted-Down Look-Is Strictly Out of Style

A lot of the new winter clothes look like spring models, so lightweight in appearance and unburdened by fur. This, however, means that the designers of Paris styles, and the manufacturers of French fabrics have discovered that it is no longer necessary to have that heavy and weighted-down look in order to be warm. The new winter woolen fabrics are as light as a feather and as warm as an eider-down comfort.

"Drinking" Tobacco

What is now called smoking was at an early period termed drinking tobacco. In fact, the term was constantly in use until the middle of the Seventeenth century. It probably originated in the custom of inhaling smoke and allowing it to escape through the nose.

Lights of NEW YORK

By
TRUMBULL

A truck filled with sugar crossing the Fifty-eighth street bridge somehow caught fire. This extraordinary fire, which normally is heavy over that centrally located span. Finally, they managed to put the fire out. By, meanwhile something else had happened. The heat had melted the sugar and it descended to the roadway of the bridge in the shape of slush and snowed, heavy and thick, in all directions. This caused a traffic tie-up to which the former one was nothing. Sand and small gravel had to be prepared in large amounts and spread to give traction. It was several hours before the traffic was straightened out.

A man who had been signing other person's names to his checks got caught at it and found himself in the penitentiary. Every inmate has to work for his room and board up there, so they gave the forger a job. He was assigned to teach penmanship.

Francis Albertanti tells me a story of Owney Madden, generally designated as a racketeer and undesirable citizen, but of whom Father Caglin, former chaplain at Sing Sing, once said that he had helped more ex-convicts go straight than all the reformers. It seems that Madden had an office in a building on Broadway where there was a frail looking elevator man. For several days, this man was missing and Madden asked where he was. He learned that the elevator man was at home in bed and it looked as if he might stay there some time.

This was not so good, as the man got one of those trick salaries—the trick being to live on it. Madden went to see him. He made him roll over with his face to the wall; said he wanted to see his back. When the man was thus engaged, Madden slipped two $100 bills under his pillow. Then he left. "And," says Mr. Albertanti, "I sure would like to have seen the expression on that man's face when he slipped his thin hand under his tired old head and found that money."

I always have liked the story of the benevolent gangster who was too kind-hearted to see the poor of Hell's kitchen suffer from the winter weather during a coal strike. Solely from motives of charity, he took a gun, held up three coal wagons, and made the drivers dump the coal in the street. It didn't stay there any longer than it took to get baskets and boxes to gather it up.

Three would-be robbers tried to hold up a Brooklyn hospital. Police captured them. Now they feel sicker than the patients.

Clister H. Aldrich, the noted architect, says he considers the Morgan library the most beautifully designed building in the city. Because of its size and surroundings, many pass it by without much notice. The Empire State tower still is doing a lively business with sightseers. The usual thing is for a building to support a tower, but this tower supports the building. John Law, former Notre Dame center and captain, is a renting agent at Rockefeller City and coaching football on the side.

St. Louis Zoo Has Four Nice Buffalo for Sale
St. Louis, Mo.—Unless the St. Louis zoo officials find buyers for four buffalo they want to sell for $75 each the zoo workers are going to have a feast of buffalo meat. Officials said that the zoo is overstocked with buffalo and if they can't sell the animals they will be slaughtered and a banquet tendered the workers.

Katharine Cornell, who won fame as the heroine in such plays as "The Green Hat" and "The Letter," is testing herself in a new type role in "Lacerte." She says she wants to determine if she has the ability to be a classical actress. She is shown in one of the costumes she wears in the new drama.

Musical Society Hears Russian Music

The musical Society of Kingston met at the home of Mrs. Florence Cudberry, 185 Main street, on Wednesday evening. Mrs. William Macgregor Mills, the president, opened the meeting asking for the treasurer's report. Mrs. Henry Millington gave the report and requested that she might have a complete membership list before the next meeting. Miss Marion Messenger was appointed librarian for the Choral Club. The Choral Club rehearsals will be resumed on Tuesday, January 3, at Harry Dodge's studio. The second community concert is Wednesday, January 4, which is the regular meeting night.

The Russian program for the evening, which Mrs. Cudberry had charge of, opened with an interesting talk by Mrs. A. Noble Graham. Mrs. Graham said that after the Napoleonic wars the great feeling for music of Russia began. The old folk tunes inspired many of the composers. Rubenstein, Tchaikowsky, Rimsky-Korsakov and Rachmaninoff were mentioned. Melody was the keynote of Rubenstein's composing.

The harmonies often came to him faster than he could write it out in musical form. As a pianist he played for his listeners in the spirit of the work regardless of a few musical errors. His simple and beautiful melodies remain favorites today.

The sadness in Tchaikowsky's life is shown in all of his works of his later life. The Nut-Cracker Suite telling a charming Christmas story is one of his earlier works. Because of his unhappy marriage great emotion is shown in many of his songs. Mrs. Graham then carried her thought to the Russia of today. The characteristic note of sadness and melancholy which predominated their music before the revolution is gradually being changed to a note of hope. Russia is encouraging her musicians today by paying them to compose. She hopes for the music of the country to equal that of the past.

Miss Marion Messenger then played two piano solos illustrating the composers mentioned by Mrs. Graham. "Barcarolle," by Rubenstein, was delicately played and was appreciated by all. A modern composition "Humoresque," by Rachmaninoff, was interpreted in a manner that showed complete understanding of the work. Miss Messenger gracefully responded with an encore, "Ibert's 'White Donkey'".

Mrs. W. N. Mills, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Tremper, sang two contralto solos, "Only the Sad of Heart" by Tchaikowsky and "The Red Sarafat," an old folk tune of Central Russia. The first song, full of pathos, showed the mood of the composer. The text of the folk tune was told by Mrs. Mills who also explained the meaning of the word "Sarafat".

A sonata for violin and piano by Rubenstein was played by Mrs. Florence Cudberry and Mrs. Cecil Chichester. This tremendous work with its many beautiful themes was played throughout with musicianly style. The number was greatly appreciated and a vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Chichester for the performance of this sonata.

The program closed with the singing of "The Carol of the Russian Children" arranged by Harvey Gaul for two parts. Mrs. Roy Wood, Mrs. Robert Harder, Mrs. Mortimer Downer, Miss Marion Messenger and Mrs. W. N. Mills sang. This unusual number called for sudden crescendos and diminuendos and it was evident that a good deal of time had been put on this to produce the effect desired. Everyone joined in singing familiar Christmas carols, after which a social hour followed and delicious refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clarence Wolfenstein, 366 Albany avenue, January 11. It was announced that as a part of the program a musical roll call will be taken.

PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Suffering

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the barless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonard found the cause of Piles to be internal congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby, the bowel walls weak, the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay. McBride Drug Stores and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed.

Bright-colored oilcloth is useful to cover kitchen chair cushions, cook books, and shelves, for window curtains, and for the work table.

Porch mats wear longer if they are placed on a frame of metal or wooden lattice work, which permits ventilation and drying underneath the mat.

SANTA AND THE MAGIC DOLL

SYNOPSIS: Santa gives a party for Toyland after Inga and Pinocchio return from burning a witch who had turned Inga into a ragged, old doll. Inga has a magic, gold mirror and a basket that is never empty which once belonged to the witch.

Chapter XI THE DWARF

All the time Inga and Pinocchio had been returning home so happily there was a very evil dwarf on the mountain, where they had found the witch. This dwarf was cooking a magic potion which he planned to use to revenge the witch's death.

It wasn't widely known but the dwarf was the witch's brother. People in the fairy world seldom saw him. He just lived underground and did odd jobs for his sister.

The dwarf was a tiny, little old man with a hump back, black eyes and huge ears that stuck up above his cap.

He was so ugly that the witch used to send him to frighten children. He would suddenly appear standing on the edge of a school book and then he'd disappear so suddenly that you couldn't tell whether you'd really seen him or not.

But he planned in some way to harm Toyland. Two dolls had burned his sister. And although he didn't know as much as she did about magic there were a few things he remembered, such as making a magic potion that put people to sleep for twelve hours.

When he had his potion bubbling nicely over the fire he poured it into tiny little molds and let it cool. When he dumped out the molds he had a whole dish of tiny, little balls that looked just like candies. He colored them all bright pink and slipped them into a leather pouch.

"Ha, ha," he chuckled. "I guess that will fix them. One of those little pills would put a giant to sleep to say nothing about some silly dolls."

Then he pushed a gate across the entrance to his underground home, pulled up his belt tight, pulled his cap down as far as his big ears would permit and set out with great, big strides to go to Toyland. But on the road he met a huge rat.

"Say, Mr. Rat," he called, "let me ride on your back." The rat agreed and they went through the woods like a gray streak. Soon they were at the torshop.

"Guess I'll just stay out here and wait for you," said the rat. "This is none of my business."

"I won't be long," said the dwarf, "hee, hee, hee."

He slipped into the torshop and when Santa wasn't looking he walked up to each of the dolls with a sly grin on his face, and said, "Have a candy." They're very good.

The little pink candies looked so good when he held them out that the little dolls never gave it another thought. They all grabbed for some and popped them into their mouths.

In a twinkling they were all asleep. Santa was sitting by the fireplace, putting together a toy cart, and he didn't see any of this.

When all the torshop was quiet and nobody could see what the dwarf was doing he slipped around and took all the keys out of the toy-trains, jumping jacks, toy carts and doll cupboards, and stuck them in his pouch.

Then he hopped right out of the window, and onto the back of the rat that was waiting for him, and was off.

Can you guess why he did it?

At The Theatres

Today
Kingston: "Faithless." A romance of business with Tallulah Bankhead in her best role to date, supported by Robert Montgomery and a distinguished cast. It's the story of a young business man in love with a wealthy girl. When the well remembered crash comes, he finds himself without money or job. The girl is also penniless. How they are united after bitterness and struggles is the plot basis of the picture.

Orpheum: "So Big" and "Hell's Headquarters." The first, from the famous novel of Edna Ferber, is a story of American womanhood, starring Barbara Stanwyck. "Hell's Headquarters" is a melodrama with Jack Mulhall and Barbara Weeks.

Broadway: "Hidden Gold." Old and young will enjoy this latest western story of Tom Mix. It's a fast-paced yarn in which Mix is wrongly accused of robbery and there is action every moment. A forest fire adds added excitement to the story. Judith Barrie and Tony Tom's faithful horse, have featured roles in the picture.

Ritz: "Sky Devil" and "Dragnet Patrol." The first is a story of the war in the air, with Spencer Tracy and Ann Dvorak. There are some brilliantly photographed airplane scenes, and some excellent comedy. "Dragnet Patrol" is a fast moving story of crime and its detection.

Tomorrow
Kingston: "Afraid to Talk." A frank and brutal expose of police

OFFICE CAT & Jinxes

Passing of "Xmas."
That ugly profanation of the most brilliant word in the English language, which substitutes for the name Christ an X, very largely disappeared from the press of the nation during the past few holiday seasons.

We have seen "Xmas" used less often both in editorial text and advertising matter during the past three or four holiday seasons than before in our lifetime. This must be a direct answer to the stirring appeals that have been made during the past five years, and we devoutly hope that we are right in concluding that the criticism has yielded a general reform. Duty is stern and the days are fleeting, but the people of America still have time to spell out the name of the natal day of Jesus Christ.

Judging by the husbands some of them pick out, it seems that the ladies are not so hard to please after all.

"What would happen to the young man of today who could not even do simple arithmetic?" asks an accountant. He would probably become a waiter.

Insuring a husband against death isn't enough these days. He should be insured against theft.

Judge—Do you wish the court to understand that you refuse to renew your dog license?
Defendant—Yes, Your Honor, but—
Judge—We want no "buts." You will be fined. You know the license has expired.
Defendant—Yes, but—so has the dog.

If the truth were only known, a good many girls spent their vacation camping on some boy's trail.

When a defendant takes the stand in his own behalf he tells all he knows he can get away with.

Skipper—This little boat makes twenty knots an hour.
Girl Friend—Think of the rope! and who unties them all?

Boas (sarcastically)—So you want to get this afternoon off? I suppose your grandmother died, eh?
Office Boy—No, sir. She eloped.

A rich oil magnate had descended on one of New York's big hotels. Irritated at the indifference of the staff to his great wealth, he determined to give them something to talk about.

At breakfast the following morning he said to the waiter:
Oil Magnate—Bring me $20.00 worth of bacon and eggs.
Waiter (shaking his head)—Sorry, sir, but we don't serve half portions in this hotel.

It was the young lawyer's first case, and he was bubbling over with pride and enthusiasm as he stood in court.

Young Lawyer (addressing defendant)—Now, you say you came to town to look for work? I put it to you, there was another, a stronger, motive that brought you all this distance.

Defendant (hesitating)—Well, there was—
Young Lawyer—Ah! I thought so! And what was it?
Defendant—A locomotive.

Some persons never do anything for a cold. Probably figuring that it never did anything for them.

Horace—Let's make whoopee.
Freely—No, it's too much trouble. Let's buy it.

Father—Was Jack intoxicated when he came home last night?
Daughter—I didn't notice anything—except that he asked for a mirror to see who he was.

It is said that a Kingston lad is the most promising boy in town... He owes everybody.

methods, and the crookedness behind the arm of the law with Eric Linden, Sidney Fox, and Frank Sheridan. Eric Linden gives his most dramatic characterization in the role of a bell hop who witnessed a murder, who has to take the blame, and who finally is beaten into confessing a crime he didn't do, by the strong arm men of the law. This picture packs a wallop, with a plot supposedly based on fact. The acting is excellent, and this show is recommended to those who like frankness in their pictures.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Duren, Germany. After 15 years, a hand has stretched across No Man's Land to drive the wolf away from the door of Hans Schultz, an unemployed laborer.

During one of the 1917 drives, Schultz rescued a French officer who was badly wounded. They exchanged letters as the Frenchman convalesced in a hospital.

Schultz, who has been without work for eight months, recently received a letter from his French friend with 400 francs as a "Christmas present". The officer explained he had just run across the German's name in an old diary and wanted to renew the friendship.

Quick, Watson, the Razor

Omaha, Neb. — Gentlemen who have "drag" mustaches will be interested.

Professor Leo R. Kennedy, head of the psychology department of Creighton University, made a study of persons he listed as morose. Without drawing any conclusions he catalogued 100 cases and said: "Eighty of the 100 wore 'drag' mustaches."

Ouch!

They Mean Business

Cincinnati — When Wyoming authorities go after a man, they mean business! Cincinnati police received a 500-word telegram containing the text of a warrant for the arrest of Martin Tracy, 26, of Worland, Wyo., who is visiting here. It cost $9.45 and it will cost $59.91 for railroad fare should Tracy be returned for trial. He is charged with forging a check for $20.

Hearts Too Soft?

Detroit — Policemen may look tough, and act tough when the occasion demands, but Police Commissioner James K. Watkins believes they are too kind hearted to act as social workers. Opposing a proposal that policemen and firemen make welfare investigations, he said, "Officers are hard boiled when it comes to dealing with criminals, but let one of them see a hungry child and his deepest sympathies are aroused. Trained social workers will do a better job."

Case of a Cow

Erie, Pa. — In the solemn dignity of the court, the case of John Kalosowski vs. Andrezi Bataisk came before the bar of justice, attaches announcing: "The complainant, Kalosowski, seeks to recover a cow he traded to Bataisk for a truck."

Bataisk arose and as the court waited for Kalosowski, counsel for the latter said he was absent because the truck broke down enroute to court.

Judge U. P. Rosetter suggested the defense counsel bitch up the cow, and tow Kalosowski in.

Cats and Dogs.

Royal Oak, Mich. — If animals think about such things, ten dogs and three cats had given themselves up for lost as they were trundled toward the pound in the dog catcher's wagon. But the wagon struck a bus and as the dog catcher was attempting to round up his scattered prey, a street car struck his wagon. So the dog catcher gave up and went home. So did the cats and dogs.

Offers to Show 'em.

West Chester, Pa. — He's the kind of a man, Joseph Gilmore is, who won't ask his cattle to do anything he won't do himself. When a justice fined him $10 for keeping the cattle in a pasture after his barn burned he offered to spend five nights in the open just to prove the weather is not too severe for livestock. The court decided against it.

Old Tulsa Custom.

Tulsa, Okla. — There'll be no relief for the mistreated in this county until the arrival of the new year breaks an old Tulsa custom.

District Judges announced they would not grant divorces during December. The practice has been in effect several years.

Nice Work, Mates.

Minneapolis — A triple play: Mrs. C. Stevens of Minneapolis was visiting Mrs. Victoria Baker of St. Paul. While she was there a fire broke out in the Stevens home.

A neighbor telephoned the Baker residence. Mrs. Baker telephoned the St. Paul fire department. The St. Paul fire department telephoned the Minneapolis fire department which sent out an engine and out went the fire.

Co-eds Finance Romance.

Seattle — University of Washington co-eds grapple with the "date" depression in a big way. Out of 30 interviewed, 21 pay part of the bill when out with the boy friend. One furnishes the car, gas and cigarettes; many pay half the refreshment bill, and one, after financing her young man in a social way for several months, bought her own engagement ring.

Changed His Mind.

Beckley, W. Va. — A brick suddenly shattered a department store window but the guilty one fled without taking any merchandise.

An aged man entered the store later, declaring: "I can tell you who threw that rock. What will you give me?"

The man was given a dollar. He accompanied the owner to a justice of the peace and announced:

"I'm W. P. Spencer, 52. I did it." He said he was penniless, saw shoes in the window and then, after breaking the glass, "I realized I had done wrong and changed my mind about the shoes."

The police and the store-owner are puzzled — they don't want to prosecute the aged man and they don't want to turn him out in the streets.

FASHIONS By ELEANOR GUNN

Either for Links or Rink.

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild.)

At left, the two-piece jersey dress is accented in a mannish version with white pique bow. (Vard rose is the color favored.)

At right, velveteen in a deep wine red is employed for a skating suit with short double breasted jacket and divided skirt.

The Jacket as an Evening Escort

New York—There seem to be an abundance of parties scheduled for the holidays and after. One should be prepared for these interesting events, and this means primarily that one must have at least one good-looking jacket, a term which seems to be taking the place of "evening wrap."

It is interesting to report that frequently the most glamorous and most sophisticated gown is completed by a little jacket. Designers are now paying that location and scene have no power to lessen interest in the jacket that is brief covering of the sort is a sartorial necessity, and, according to jackets in themselves have developed a style consciousness.

They are more smartly styled than ever. They add to the effect of completeness that a modish costume requires, and, of course, they are a protection. Usually, it is waistline length, sometimes covering the hips; they are deftly handled at this point; they may or may not be fur-trimmed.

As we have so frequently remarked, it is better to have no fur at all than just a bit, and because there must be an exception to this rule we make it in favor of the rather severely cut jacket, of any length, that has a rounded neckline finished with a tiny band of some precious fur—ermine, for instance. There are many evening wraps with just a tiny fur edge at the collar, the feeling being for narrow collars.

Whether one prefers a jacket that flares, swaggers fashion—again, any length below the hip—or whether one prefers a definitely accented waistline, is entirely a personal matter.

Velvet is, of course, the leading fabric with or without fur, but one may choose metallic cloth or broadcloth or some of the new blistered satins.

EVENING COAT LUXURIOUS

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild.)

A lavish employment of silver tux skins makes this two-thirds length coat of black Lyon velvet, one of the most luxurious evening wraps of the season. Wide armholes and loose swinging back are other features.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

In both suits and coats the built-up neckline continues to be emphasized. It appears in a new version in a polo coat where the standing collar is rolled and buttoned at one side.

Tea Gown Is Back But It's Made on Slim 1932 Lines

The tea gown which mother wore is back in the fashion spotlight designed to fit the slim, sophisticated figure of 1932. Moynaux designs this model of soft yellow lace with a girdle of crushed old gold velvet.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Pleasing Frock For a Small Girl. 7757. This dainty model comprises skirt portions shaped to form panels over the centre front and back, topped by round yoke sections, and finished with a round bertha. The sleeve, a short puff, held by a narrow band, may be omitted as shown in the large view, or the bertha may be omitted as shown in the small front view. Cotton prints, pongee, crepe, linen or taffeta is suggested for this style.

Designed in 4 sizes: 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. Sizes 4 if made as in the large view, will require 1 1/2 yard of 32 inch material. If made as in the small front view, with sleeves and without bertha 1 2/3 yard will be required. The yoke of contrasting material will require 1/4 yard of 24 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

DELICIOUS CEREAL OVERCOMES COMMON CONSTIPATION

ALL-BRAN Provides "Bulk," Vitamin B and Iron

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN meets a basic need of the American dietary. It supplies "bulk"—so helpful in correcting common constipation. In eleven years, ALL-BRAN has won millions of satisfied users.

New tests show added reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory experiments prove that, in addition to "bulk," it provides vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN is mild. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Two tablespoons daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Executive Veto Power

"Item veto" is the name applied to the power of a chief executive officer to veto single items in appropriation bills, without destroying the entire bill. The President of the United States cannot veto single items of a bill; he must sign the entire bill or veto it. Three-fourths of the state constitutions give the item veto to the governor and it has proved very effective in preventing riders from being tacked on important bills.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Chemicals in Food

There are at present 10 known chemical elements which make up both plant and animal matter. These elements are found in varying amounts in all plant and animal matter and hence in all food. Some of them, of course, are found in infinitesimal amounts. They are: Carbon, oxygen, nitrogen, hydrogen, sulphur, calcium, magnesium, potassium, iron, phosphorus, manganese, chlorine, sodium, silicon, aluminum, boron, iodine, fluorine and arsenic.

Albanians Learn Road Tricks

Tirana, Albania (AP)—Smooth city pavements, something new to Albanians, are making bicycles popular here and every day soldiers and civilians may be seen practicing fancy turns and stunt riding on the new boulevard named for King Zog.

SAUGERTOWN

Saugerties, Dec. 14.—Dr. Luther Emerick of Partition street, who is seriously ill at his home, is reported to be slightly improved. Dr. James Krom of this village and Dr. Green of Poughkeepsie are attending him.

John F. Cartright of the Saugerties Bank addressed the arithmetic class of the Junior High School on Tuesday morning. Mr. Cartright spoke on stocks, bonds and the curb market, which was very interesting.

The Parent-Teacher Association will include the "Question Box" in this year's program for 1933. Mrs. John C. Eason will have charge of the question box and it is hoped that all will avail themselves of this opportunity, as many interesting matters were brought about the past year.

The annual meeting of the Congregational Church which was to have been held this Thursday evening, was postponed to next Thursday evening. There will be election of officers and transaction of other business.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Bueklirk of Partition street were recent visitors in Troy.

Miss Margaret Emerick of the St. Clairville, N. Y., school faculty, and Miss Elizabeth Emerick of the Albany hospital staff of nurses have been called home on account of the illness of their father, Dr. Emerick.

Mrs. James T. Maxwell, Jr., of Wynnewood, Pa., has been spending the past few days with Mr. and Mrs. James T. Maxwell on Market street.

Mrs. Edward Jonker and daughter of Hoboken, N. J., have been spending the past few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kleeber, on Partition street.

Mrs. Till of Mt. Marion underwent an operation in the Kingston Hospital for the removal of her appendix by Drs. Snyder and James Krom.

A food sale will be held by the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational Church on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the store formerly occupied by the John A. Snyder Insurance agency on Partition street.

Miss Tillie Keener of Washington avenue has returned home from a visit with relatives in Binghamton, N. Y.

Miss Edrie Warner of Purling, N. Y., was a recent guest of Miss Clara Bienn at the Maxwell House.

Walter Simmons of West Bridge street is in the Kingston Hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis by Drs. Snyder and Krom.

Harry Crooks of Grand Gorge spent the past Sunday with Donald S. Fellows on Market street.

Miss Steenken of Barclay Heights has gone to New York city, where she will spend the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kleeber and daughter of Valatie, N. Y., Mrs. Jennie Kleeber Dwyer of Albany, and Charles Kleeber of Elmira, attended the funeral of the late Miss Elizabeth Kleeber in St. Mary's Church on Monday.

Mrs. F. E. W. Darrow of Main street is spending a few days in New York city.

The village board of trustees has set aside a room in the municipal building which will be used as a waiting room during the winter months for those who travel on the busses. Entrance will be on the West Bridge street side of the building. All will appreciate this act of thoughtfulness of the village fathers.

Ida Miller, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, of Washington avenue, underwent an operation for appendicitis in Kingston at the Benedictine Hospital by Drs. Gifford and Sibler.

The following officers have been elected to serve St. Mary's Holy Name Society for 1933: Charles Granwehr, president; Patrick Sweeney, vice president; Charles Gilmore, recording secretary; Anthony Bonacci, financial secretary; Lorenz Loezel, treasurer; the Rev. Malachy O'Leary, spiritual advisor; Arthur Schoen, publicity committee. It was voted to contribute $25 to the Christmas fund of St. Mary's Church.

The Ulster Garden Club has presented $25 to the Emergency Relief Clothing Bureau of this place to be used in their welfare work during the winter months.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

PAIN EASED FIRST DAY

If you suffer from crippling rheumatic aches and pains, Neuritis, Lumbago, lame knotted muscles, swollen inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the irritating poisons that cause rheumatism.

What you need is RU-MA, the new internal medicine that acts on the blood, liver and kidneys, and helps expel these dangerous poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination. Only an internal medicine can do this.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop—RU-MA gives pain first day and gives rheumatic sufferers such safe and lasting relief from their stiffening, crippling lameness and torturing pains that it is recommended by druggists everywhere. McBride Drug Stores urge every sufferer to get a $1.00 bottle of RU-MA today, and agree to return the purchase price if it does not free them from all their aches and pains of rheumatism.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS—In pursuance of an order of Hon. GEORGE F. KAUFMAN, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against Andrew W. New Plymouth Is on Display

The new Plymouth Six, announced by Walter P. Chrysler in Detroit recently, is on display in the showroom of Forreth & Davis Motor Company, Inc. Bearing the lowest price by far ever placed on a Chrysler Motors product, the new Plymouth Six is reported to be the most economical motor car of recent years. The new Plymouth, according to Mr. Davis, is a full-sized automobile. It is outstanding in performance and is economical in operating cost. The new Six has all the comfort and convenience features of cars selling in the much higher priced brackets. It has style, extreme smart lines, and has nothing of the "cheap-car-look", and the public is invited to view the various models at their showroom on 113 Green street, this city.

Ship's Guidance
The word "starboard" is probably derived from steer board, and became identified with the side of the ship to the right of a person at the steer board and facing the bow. The word larboard was used to designate the side to the left. This term has been superseded by the word port in order to avoid the confusion caused by the similarity of names.

Fire! Thief!

By PEGGY STOKES

IT WAS an absurd thing, the quarrel that made Marian decide not to marry Stewart Browley. It wasn't that they didn't love each other. They did. But they were both a bit hot tempered, and when Stewart came outraged and said he wouldn't allow Marian to work after she was married, they both said more than they really meant, and soon found themselves involved in a real quarrel.

Marian hadn't wanted to work, really. She had even told the principal of her school that she would resign at Christmas because she expected to be married early in January. But she had fought for the right of a woman to work outside her home and still be a good wife.

"And," Marian had ended up, after hot and unconsidered words on both sides, "I won't be a slave in your kitchen."

"I don't want a slave," said Stewart.
"If I did I'd hire one. What I want is a decent wife—not a shouting, quarreling—"

So, before they knew it, they had broken their engagement. Within five minutes after they had parted each had realized the mistake—the absurdity of letting something trivial break what was so beautiful, so strong. And it wasn't just that. Their house was waiting for them.

Marian couldn't think of that house rented to strangers.
Half the time she abused herself for her stupidity. She realized that she and Stewart were unusually well suited—unusually likely to make a real success of their future together.

If anyone had kept track of what Marian did with her time, it might have seemed strange that she spent so many hours shut in her room sewing.
Marian never looked at the house,
but turned her gaze to the other side of the street. Nevertheless she could feel the unfriendly and resentful attitude of the house that should, even now, have been filling with furniture and rugs, dishes and curtains, to make ready for her first homecoming.

That's what started Marian to sewing. Table and household linen lay all finished and marked in a trunk.
She had done that work in summer vacation. But she had planned to make the curtains for the seventeen windows of the little house after she had had a chance to measure them—and now that most of her evenings were free, she could just as well spend them sewing as not—well, she decided to make the curtains anyway.
Those staring windows were getting on her nerves.

She took the dotted net from her bureau and went to work.
Then, one moonless night, with a flash light in her pocket and a yardstick buttoned under her coat, she stole over to the little house, went up the front porch, measured a window.

When all the downstairs curtains were finished Marian faced the problem of the upstairs windows. Those on the side of the house were probably the same height as those downstairs, but those at the front and back, dominated out from the deeply sloping roof, were surely shorter. She's have to measure them.

That night, with her trusty flashlight and yardstick hidden away, she went to the dark little house. She would have liked a ladder, of course.
But she hadn't lost her childhood ability to climb trees, and it wasn't long before she was stepping along the flat little strip of roof outside the back dormer.

It was rather spooky work up there in the dark, Marian thought. She peered into the darkened windows as she pulled at the yardstick under her coat. But—weren't dark. A dull glow, flickering, now bright, now dim, showed through the half-opened door into the hall. The house was on fire!

Marian's only thought was to get inside and put out the blaze. It was her house that was burning—hers by every right. She couldn't bear to see it consumed or even damaged by flames. She must save it.

She tried frantically to open the windows. But they were securely locked. Then she tried her shoe. If she could only get in! She didn't remember, at the moment, that the water would not have been turned on and that a far more sensible course would have been to notify the fire department. And when she heard the glass crack under the heavy impact of her shoe heel she gave a little cry of joy.

Then she screamed.
There was a loud sound of footsteps coming up the stairs, and in another minute one of the windows was pushed up. A man's head appeared and, "Stop, thief!" he cried.

"Fire!" shouted Marian.
And that's all there is to the story.
The man crying thief, on hearing Marian's voice, had crawled through the window to the roof and taken her into his arms.

"Fire?" he echoed, as he pulled her into the empty house after him. "Yes—down in the living room—the fireplace, where I was trying to think things out, wondering how I could get on without you, Marian."

"Thief!" echoed Marian. "Never again, Stewart. If you'll take me back I'll never again try to steal anything that belongs to you or your little house, as I did when I left you, Stewart. Have you some candles? Let's go get the downstairs curtains and put them up."

Patience Wins

Hustle is necessary in this fast-stopping world, and the real hustler usually gets somewhere. But speed is not the all-important essential. The ability to wait also counts. Ben Franklin said that "He that can have patience can have what he will."—Grit.

Carol Service at New Paltz Church

The traditional carol service by candle light will be given at the Reformed Dutch Church, New Paltz, Sunday afternoon, December 18, at 4 o'clock. The doors will open, however, at 4:15 in consideration of those who come early. Between that time and the processional, Mrs. DeWitt Seward, organist, will present a program of organ recitals in keeping with the season.

The Choir Guild, under the direction of George Oates, has been augmented for the service. The carols have been taken from the folklore of many lands. Russia, Germany, Italy, Portugal and others are represented. One carol of striking interest was found among the mountain whites of the southland. The music comes from various centuries.

The church in which the service will be held is one of the oldest in the country. Next year it will celebrate its 250th anniversary. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Augustus Farmers Trade Fair.
Nori Sad, Jurokavia (P)—Claiming that middlemen get all their profits, farmers are arriving in this section from South Serbia, 200 miles away, to trade for industrial products. The trip takes their horses several days, but they take home five times the stuff they could buy for money.

Brazil's Debts Cut by Paying Pressing Bills

Rio De Janeiro (P)—Brazil, seeking to ease her $500,000,000 foreign and state foreign debt burden, and at the same time satisfy creditors, has paid $15,000,000 on the most pressing obligations this year, according to semi-official banking sources.

The payments include $11,700,000 paid by the federal government for funding and amortization in London and New York. The others have been funding operations by state governments and payments on coffee loans.

To Prune State Debt.
To meet the problem of state and municipal foreign indebtedness, which takes up more than 40 per cent of the lump sum, a government commission has suggested that the federal government sanction agreements between creditors and debtors in line with "financial and economic possibilities of debtor states."

The proposal was advanced by Major Juarez Tavora, who has studied the state foreign debt question for the federal government.

He has pointed out that revenue of some states does not equal interest charges on defaulted obligations.

Pay Rothschilds First.
Retarding and other agreements are proposed as cures for state and municipal issues which require such surgical methods.

The federal government, by drastic exchange control, has concentrated on paying off a $20,000,000 debt to Rothschilds of London and then proceeding with its funding plan. When payment of the Rothschild obligation is completed, the treasury will be in a much better position to tackle its foreign debt problem as a whole.

State Rescues Fish from Canal

Albany, Dec. 16.—Workmen of the State Conservation Department last week rescued many thousands of fish who were threatened with death when the Barge Canal was drained in the section above Lock No. 1 between Waterford and Mechanicsville.

It is customary for the Department of Public Works to lower the water of the canal each year before the ice season begins. This leaves the fish stranded on the mud bottom or swimming in small pools, which will speedily freeze to the bottom, holding the fish fast in the ice.

At the request of the Conservation Department, the Public Works Department this year extended its lowering of the water over three days instead of running it off in one day as in previous years. This gave the Conservation Department more plenty of time to net out the fish and transfer them to the Hudson river, where they were liberated.

As soon as the water began to get low, the workmen took pails, dipnets and cans as well as nets and worked each day from sunrise until darkness pulling out the fish by the thousands. The varieties taken were mostly perch, pickerel, bullheads and large mouthed bass. They were dumped into large cans and hurried by truckloads to the Hudson, where they were released. Only a very small proportion of them died during transportation.

Cool Trip For Nile Fish.
Alexandria, Egypt (P)—Thousands of fish have been carried across the burning Sahara in cooled railway tanks in a second attempt to stock the upper reaches of the Nile. Last year 70,000 fish were started across the desert but so many died en route that the experiment was a failure.

DUCE ADDS BRICKLAYING TO HIS PUBLIC TALENTS.
Milan, Italy (P)—Besides being an expert automobile driver, horseman and motorboat pilot, Mussolini is a skilled brick-layer.

This was not generally known until he visited a building under construction here, stepped into a workman's place and laid a row of bricks as straight as a string.

Lying.
Lying is a hateful and accursed vice. It is words alone which distinguish us from the brute creation, and hurt us to each other.

YEARS OF ENTERTAINMENT IN THIS SINGLE GIFT

If you wish to make a gift that will provide gaiety and entertainment—and who does not, even in this day of thrift?—add "Electric Radio" to your Christmas list.

Beginning on Christmas day when it brings the beauty of Christmas music to the home, an electric radio will provide years of inexpensive entertainment that will make your generosity long remembered.

Radio prices are surprisingly low this season, and the fidelity with which modern radio sets reproduce the natural beauty of music, and of the human voice, will be a revelation to you if you are accustomed to the radio reproduction of a few years ago. The radio section of your favorite store has interesting news for you. Visit it today.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYES • By JEAN NEWTON

DO WE KNOW WHEN WE'RE LUCKY?

THE well known explorer, Herbert Spencer Dicky, took his wife on a recent expedition to the headwaters of the Orinoco, where he visited with savage tribes, including one never before seen by white men.

On his return from the South American wilderness he wrote an absorbing article which included comparisons of the ways of living of savage and civilized men. This is always fascinating, though the comparison of contrast is not always in favor of civilized man and woman. One part of the world always likes to know how the other and far removed lives. It is enlightening that is sometimes of double interest, one being that the illumination sometimes throws a new light upon ourselves.

We are told, for instance, that the primitive people in those isolated regions, men and women who go naked, with painted bodies and believe in their weird "medicine men," possess a "natural inherent courtesy and kindness rarely experienced in life in a metropolis of our own country."

Most interesting to my readers, however, will be the explorer's revelations of the "place" of women among savage tribes. His wife, he says, was a continuous cause of wonderment to their hosts in the wilderness.

"She bears no burdens on her back," he remarks, "no children swing from her hips, she neither sows nor reaps; moreover—most remarkable of all to the polygamous aborigine of South America—she is an only wife. And she is pale, and looks not overstrong. Yet the Indian does not sneer at her, even when in his heart he must consider her, from his viewpoint, a pretty useless if ornamental bit of excess baggage!"

The question is—for we needn't be serious all the time—do we know when we're lucky?

Hyde Fails to See Republican Senators

Washington, Dec. 16 (AP).—Dis- cord is cropping out in the Repub- lican relations at the capital—evi- dence of an under surface battle for control of the party organization.

The outspoken feeling of three

Republican Senators whom Secre- tary Hyde failed to see yesterday is taken as an outward manifestation of some Republicans in Congress, although the agriculture department head had a ready explanation.

Senators Smoot of Utah; Carey of Wyoming; and Steiwer of Oregon, waited almost an hour to see Mr. Hyde before departing. Carey said they previously had made an ap- pointment with Hyde. They were asked to wait, he added, and did so until they had to leave for the open- ing of the Senate at noon.

Mr. Hyde explained last night that he was late in getting to the office and others ahead of the Senators on his list took over the time specified for them. He was surprised at any feeling in the matter and empha- sized, "I have never refused to see a member of Congress."

TOMORROW CHEVROLET PRESENTS A NEW SIX

Longer • Larger • Faster • Smoother • New in Styling • More Economical • And Featuring Fisher No-Draft Ventilation

TOMORROW will be Chevrolet Day throughout America. And the new car that millions have been watching and waiting for—the latest product of the world's leading builder of automobiles—will go on display: the New Chevrolet Six—at a new scale of low prices. Front, side, rear—inside, outside—everything about this new car is advanced, improved, exciting. Longer wheelbase makes it the biggest automobile in today's low-price field. The latest principle of car design, "Air-Stream" styling, gives it a totally different, ultra-modern appearance. The new Fisher bodies are larger, wider—faultlessly stream-lined—swung lower to the road—and offer the first basic improvement in travel comfort in over ten years: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Chevrolet performance in every gear is faster, flashier, more brilliant. The time-proven six-cylinder engine is more powerful as well as more economical. Improved Free Wheeling is combined with a "silent second" Synchro-Mesh gear-shift. Chevrolet engineers have developed a remarkable new invention that wins a complete victory over vibration: The Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting. And as far as prices are concerned, several models now sell at the lowest figures in Chevrolet history. Chevrolet is able to do all this because Chevrolet has the advantage of being the world's largest builder of cars for 4 out of the past 6 years. Chevrolet builds cars in greater volume—buys materials in greater quantities—does everything on a bigger, more economical scale. Hence, Chevrolet is in a position to provide a better car at a better price than could possibly issue from any other source. The leader can accomplish what others dare not try!

Egg Quality And Grading

Paul H. E. Botsford of the New York State College of Agriculture discussed the subject of egg quality and grading at a series of four lectures given at the New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The attendance at all four lectures was only fair but those present were actually interested.

The subject of egg quality is of importance to consumers as well as to producers. The Mid-Hudson Egg Marketing Association, which is now operating at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is a friendly market for high quality Hudson Valley eggs and is a dealer in eggs of superior quality.

Botsford stressed the fact that egg quality cannot be improved after the egg is laid. Quality, both of the egg and the hen, is inherited. The qualities of eggs are inherited from the parent birds.

The poultryman purchases the chicks and therefore considers the factor of egg quality in addition to the factor of egg quantity. After the egg is laid, there are a number of fundamental things a poultryman can do to get the best possible quality egg on the market.

The first is to produce clean, healthy eggs. This can be accomplished by having deep nests well cleaned with litter, by screening the hens, by keeping the house dry, by ventilation and allowing ample floor space per bird.

The second is to cool the eggs quickly and keep them at a temperature of 55 degrees or lower. This means that the eggs must be collected two or three times a day, possibly during heavy production. They should then be placed in a cool cellar or refrigerator immediately and allowed to cool for eight to twelve hours, depending on the temperature. They can be graded and packed as soon as thoroughly cooled. The egg room should be kept fairly moist, but not muggy.

The third point is to grade eggs carefully for size and interior quality. They should be uniform in size and not vary more than three ounces per dozen in one lot. For the auction, all eggs should be carefully candied. By the candling, the removal of the blood spots, meat spots, checks, watery whites and visible yolk, there is no reason why all Hudson Valley eggs cannot make the fancy grade, according to Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau.

The other point is to pack each egg in a separate case which is clean and has sound, clean flaps and fillers. As a rule the eggs should be shipped at least twice a week. All this care should be taken to preserve quality and create a demand for quality eggs, according to Paul Botsford.

COUNTY HOLSTEIN CLUB HAD IMPORTANT MEETING

The Holstein County Holstein Club had a very interesting meeting at the New Palace on Thursday. It was an important meeting as well as a social one. The club members discussed the importance of the quality of the milk produced by the Holstein breed.

The meeting was called to order by B. H. Decker of Walkkill, president of the club. Albert Kurdt, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes of the last meeting. The club members discussed the importance of the quality of the milk produced by the Holstein breed.

ACCIDENT THURSDAY

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 10 (AP)—With one leg torn from his body, an unidentified man, the victim of what state troopers described as "the most brutal hit-and-run case we have ever seen," was found dead early today on the Albany-Pittsford road four miles east of Nassau.

The body, discovered by a truck driver at 2 a. m., had been there about two hours when it was found, troopers said. "The man's watch had stopped about 12:30."

He was dressed in a hunter's suit and had a 1930 hunting license in his pocket, but both the name and number on the license were illegible. He wore a silver ring with monogram, either "AC" or "AJ."

Bells' Sweetest Music Lost in Great Cities?

Most big bells are not rung when they sound bells; and that's in the woods or mountains or across a lake. A few bells in the city are rung when they sound bells. The bells of the city are rung when they sound bells. The bells of the city are rung when they sound bells.

It was once thought that when the bells of the city were rung, the sound of the bells was lost in the noise of the city. But now, the bells of the city are rung when they sound bells. The bells of the city are rung when they sound bells.

Temple made it so in "Bells of the City." The bells of the city are rung when they sound bells. The bells of the city are rung when they sound bells. The bells of the city are rung when they sound bells.

New Light Thrown on Ancient Irish History

Harvard scientists digging into the white-powdered bones and the green hills of the Irish countryside, uncovered archaeological remains which open a new vista of ancient Irish history and may lead to establishing definitely the racial identity of the ancient Irish.

Remains of an early pre-Celtic people, some possibly of 4,000 or more years ago, have been uncovered in a great series of box-like tombs upon the Hill of Slane in the Shannon valley. With them has been found a robe of the Bronze age, which scientists estimate, began 2000 B. C.

Great numbers of human bones that had been buried upon funeral pyres before the dawn of the Christian era, some of them enclosed in pottery urns of remote design, also reposed in the great underground mausoleum of the ancients.

Of the Multitude of Laws

We are prone to regard the multiplicity of laws as a distinctly modern phenomenon, as though anything is ever new. At a dinner party in the home of Prince Nikolai Andreyevich, the prince is made to say: "Yonder in (St.) Petersburg, everybody is writing not only notes but new laws, all the time. My Andryushka has been scribbling a whole volume of laws for Russia there."

This was in the early part of the Nineteenth century, shortly before Napoleon's disastrous invasion of Russia, and the lawmakers are still at it—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Washing the Moon

Nara, the ancient capital of Japan, which is quickly reached by train or auto from Asaka, Kobe or Kyoto, furnishes much to excite wonder and interest, especially at the Deer park, the temples and the great museum, which has no equal in the Orient. The golden and silver pavilions, the summer palaces of retired princes, set in beautiful gardens, whose beauty is enhanced by pools with goldfish, and a "Wash the Moon" cascade, in which the moon is reflected in the waterfall, which is the days of old Japan was believed to keep the moon bright and clean, are lovely.

Speed

A man was driving his baby car along a country road when a huge motor car shot by like a whirlwind and went out of sight in a cloud of dust. Some two hours later the motor car driver, who had stopped for lunch a few miles down the road, was surprised to see the baby car just arriving. He halted the driver: "I passed you a mile or so back, didn't I? You've been a long time getting here."

"Well," said the other sheepishly, "you passed me so quickly that I thought I'd stopped, and I got out to see what was the matter."—London Tatler.

Thousands Live Afloat

A good place to see summer is from the deck of your liner as it journeys from Hongkong to the Old Kingdom of Peking to Canton, China, says a traveler. The river and canal are filled with ancient and modern craft, and among the former are innumerable sampans. The sampan is a small boat with a curved prow and a flat bottom. It is said that fully 200,000 people are born and live and die in these boats, rarely coming ashore.

Founded Fairfield Academy

Nestled in the foothills of the Adirondacks, ten miles north of Little Falls, is the cradle of medical education in central New York. Here at the Fairfield academy, in 1850, the first series of medical lectures were given. This school trained many of the saddleback doctors and its success prompted the establishment of a school at Geneva in 1854.

Small but Important

Feder is a small island in the Shetland, with a population of only 200, but there frequently are no fewer than 600 entries in all seasons at the annual agricultural show. Some of the best cattle in the islands are reared in Feder. It has a nice reputation also for sheep and ponies.

"Big Date Mar" Popular at University

JIMMY SHARP is a popular fellow at the University of Chicago, these days. Mr. Sharp has organized a system by which new students or basketball players can call on him when they are in need of a partner for campus affairs. He will see that everything is O. K. He is shown here taking care of a number of coeds at the university who are in need of boy friends for a dance.

New Champion of Cornhuskers

CARL SEILER of Knox county, Illinois, won the national cornhusking championship when he defeated 18 state champions in the tournament at Galena, Ill. Carl established a new world record of 32,914 bushels husked in 80 minutes. He is unmarried, twenty-nine years old and lives on his father's farm.

Matt White Had A Birthday Today

Well Known Special Policeman and a Former Member of the U. S. Navy Aided by Friends in Celebrating Event at "Y" at Noon.

Matt White is 65 years young today, and the event was appropriately celebrated at noon today by a number of his friends at the local Y. M. C. A., where he has been a roomer in the dormitory for the past eight years. Physical Director Carl Foster acted as master of ceremonies and presented the gifts to Mr. White.

Among those who helped him celebrate the occasion properly were three of his old friends, the Messrs. Kilroe, Decker and Lescapier. The two former are 75 years young and Mr. Lescapier is 62 years.

Matt White is known to hosts of Kingston people and for several years past has served as a special policeman in the city, and is now doing traffic duty uptown.

Mr. White served many years in the U. S. Navy, where he made a fine record.

Although he is 65 years old today, Mr. White looks many years younger and is still "at as a fiddle," and his friends are looking for him to enjoy many more happy birthdays.

Compensation And Motorist Cases

Referee Hoyt will hold hearings at the court house Tuesday, December 20, at 9 a. m., in compensation cases.

The same day, at 10:30 a. m., a hearing commissioner will be present at the court house to hear cases of motorists whose right to operate motor vehicles has been suspended or revoked.

FEDERATION HELD MEETING THURSDAY

The December meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs was held on Thursday afternoon at the City Library, Mrs. Walker, the president, presiding.

The reports of committees included a report from Dr. Day, chairman of the public health committee, relative to the Christmas Seal sale. There has been received $4,258.54 to date, which is considerably less than last year. There are 5,305 letters not yet heard from and a prompt acknowledgment with remittance will be most acceptable as there is a time limit within which the sale must be closed.

Mrs. Fred Luther, chairman of the moving picture committee, though out of town, turned in a considerable list of good movies: Bird of Paradise, The Boiling Point, Corned, The Crooked Circle, Devil and the Deep, Lost Rembrandt, The Most Dangerous Game, Okay America, Payment Deferred, Too Busy to Work, The Big Broadcast, Cabin in the Cotton, Little Orphan Annie and Silver Dollar.

Mrs. Thompson, of the welfare committee, reported several families materially helped and especially one young family.

The only two club reports were from the Twentieth Century Club, reporting jams, jellies and other delicacies sent to the Tuberculosis Hospital and money contributed to the TB Hospital by Sorosis.

The resignation as treasurer, from Mrs. Gagnon, was received and as Mrs. Gagnon has moved to Cobleskill was accepted with regret and keen appreciation of her efficient services. Mrs. J. C. Frazer was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Gagnon's trusteeship. The auditing committee reported Mrs. Gagnon's books correct in every detail. Mrs. Frazer like Mrs. Gagnon is a member of the Twentieth Century Club.

In speaking of the recent appearance of Helen Keller in Kingston, as sponsored by the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Walker voiced the feeling of the entire executive committee when she said that it had been the greatest possible privilege to have any part in bringing such an incomparable woman to the city. Word had been received from Ernest R. LeFevre, who acted as treasurer at the meeting that the entire amount collected and pledged for The American Foundation of the Blind on Tuesday evening was $392.95, which was gratifying alike to the Federation and the representative of the Foundation for the Blind.

Considerable time was devoted to continued planning for the annual Federation Luncheon to be held on February 4, when it is expected that Mrs. Charles G. More, president of the State Federation, will be the guest of honor.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 16 (AP)—Stocks again slid downward in a sluggish market today.

Coppers and oils were adversely affected by the price situation in both industries, and the steel shares were under pressure, with U. S. Steel preferred appearing to drag down the rest of the list.

Steel preferred lost a couple of points, and issues losing a point or so included Steel common, Allied Chemical, American Can, Santa Fe, du Pont, National Biscuit, New York Central, Standard of N. J., and Westinghouse. Case and Union Pacific lost about 2. Gold stocks were firm, and tobacco were temporarily a little higher. Some further signs of professional bullish activity appeared in Aviation Corp.

Brokerage quarters continued to reflect considerable bullishness, chiefly on the theory that the market was well sold out, and that the final weeks of the year often see an upturn in shares. The public, however, has shown little inclination to re-enter the market, although a trickle of "good" buying is reported here and there by some houses.

Oils again reflected the slashing of mid-continent crude prices. Coppers paid little attention to a slightly firmer tone in the metal in the export market. Prices had recently slipped back to their record lows, following failure of the international conference of producers in New York.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Jack Mackley, Cornell's veteran track coach, thinks the metric standard newly adopted for this country by the A. A. U. will lead to considerable confusion, especially in school ranks, and that some falling off in interest may result. But it seems to be the radical character of the change itself will react to the benefit of American track and field sports. Nothing arouses youthful interest in these events so much as the Olympics, which glorify the sprinter, the distance runner and the weight thrower. In an Olympic year track and field sports get more publicity than in the preceding three, all over the world.

Since all the Olympic footraces are in the metric distances, readjustments for the time being are necessary for the American athletes as well as their followers, accustomed to yards and miles, instead of meters and kilometers.

Under such conditions a world standard is not only desirable and sensible but likely to have a stimulating effect. The readjustment of gear and arrangements would not be so great as is required almost annually, for example, in college football with its ever-shifting regulations.

Furthermore, it would obviate the necessity of re-measuring the big college tracks every four years for Olympic trials and competition. One of the incidents of the Olympics at Los Angeles was a claim that the lane marker, mistaking the customary 220 yard mark for the 200 meter line, staggered the lanes improperly and forced Ralph Metcalfe to run an extra yard against Eddie Tolan in the final.

Offers Comparison

Under the universal standard, it will be easier to compare foreign performances with our own, between as well as during Olympic years. To the average American track fan, the information that a certain Italian runner named Luigi Beccali had finished off 1500 meters in 3 minutes, 42 seconds at home did not mean a great deal, even to our expert dopers, until Luigi bounced away from the world's best milers in the Olympics record time of 3:51.2. When it was realized this is equivalent to about 4:10 or 4:11 mile, we find a sudden dawn of understanding.

The old phrase "Give him an inch and he'll take an ell" may not read as well as "give him a centimeter and he'll take a kilometer" but the athletic advantages of the metric system, with its sounder, simpler dimensions of measurement, seem clear.

News From Missouri

"The Kirksville Teachers College football team," writes George Krieger for the information of all, "was the only college team in the state of Missouri to survive the undefeated unbeaten and untied list and turned in the best season in K. S. T. C. history since 1908. Twenty-seven letters were forwarded and of that number only five were lost by graduation and the team would be strong next year.

"Five of the Kirksville players were placed on the all-conference team by virtue of their conference championship which is the fifth title in the seven years Don Faurot and Hancory Simpson have been coaching at the Kirksville institution."

BILLIARD RESULTS.

In a closely contested but rather slow game Johnny Schrader defeated Clifton Quick in a Kaslich tournament match at the Kaslich parlor last night. The final score stood 100 to 95 and up until the last ball was pocketed either man might have won. The high run of the match was 13. Schrader led at 70 to 53. From this point Schrader gained a few points each frame until the score was 94 each. Then after several misses by each man Schrader completed his game.

Tonight John Schrader will meet John Mayone. Freddie Planthaber, the Ponckle, a billiard marvel, swamped Tommy Kearney by the score of 100-0 at the Broadway parlor Thursday night. In a scheduled match of the tournament between that club and the Koening A. C. the victory was the second consecutive one for Planthaber, who had high runs of 12, 14 and 16.

Tonight there will be a match at the Koening place on Hasbrouck avenue. The remainder of the tournament schedule for this month follows:

December 19—"Pie" Murphy vs. Tony Gentile at Broadway Parlor.
December 20—Tom Kearney vs. Ed Ross at Koening A. C.
December 21—Freddie Planthaber vs. Stan Wojcik at Broadway Parlor.
December 22—Johnny Mayone vs. Tom Kearney at Koening A. C.
December 23—Charles Boyls vs. Ed Ross at Broadway Parlor.

McLearnin Choice Over Fuller, 2-1

New York, Dec. 16 (P)—Boston's little pride, rugged little Sammy Fuller, returns to Madison Square Garden tonight to face the greatest test of his career.

Not only must he tackle one of the greatest welterweights in the business, Jimmy McLearnin, but he must spot the smiling Irishman from Vancouver seven or eight pounds as well. Few boxers are beating McLearnin at even weights and the betting fraternity has made him a 2 to 1 favorite over Fuller, who is hardly more than a heavy lightweight.

The match, a 10-round affair, was made at 147 pounds and McLearnin will scale close to that. Fuller, a sensation among the lightweights earlier this year, probably will not tip the beam at more than 139.

Still there is plenty of betting support for the Boston star by those who recall his sensational conquests of Ray Miller, Billy Wallace and Jack (Kid) Berg. Fuller is a rough and ready article for anybody to tackle, a good puncher with either hand.

Billy Townsend, Vancouver welterweight, will appear in the semi-final of eight rounds against an opponent not yet selected. In other fights, Eddie (Kid) Wolfe of Memphis, Tenn., tackles Baby Joe Gans, Los Angeles negro, and Billy McMahon of New York engages Tracey Cox of Indianapolis.

Spinnys Swamp the Hudson Boys Club At Pythian, 51-38

Falling to live up to the reputation it made last season, the Hudson Boys Club visited Port Ewen Thursday night and in the regular weekly basketball feature at Pythian Hall failed to score more than 38 points against the brigade of Alanson H. Short that ran wild to roll up 51 points, most of which were made in the first half of the contest.

Fearing the Columbia county basketballers might stage a scoring rampage right off the start, the Spinnys put on full power at the sound of the opening whistle and when the timer sounded the end of the half, the boys from across the creek were away out in front by the overwhelming margin of 27-6.

Realizing they had the visitors completely baffled, the Port Ewens restrained their efforts in the second session, allowing the Hudson quintet to toss in a few more shots than it might have if the home team kept up the brand of ball it played in the opening stanza. Hank Krum, Spinnys center, left the game at the intermission and surrendered the pivot position to "Bing" Van Etten, who showed more mercy to Waggoner, his opponents, who gleamed most of his 25 points during the closing frame. The tally was highest of the battle, Dan Jorce and Krum being next in line. They scored 17 and 12 respectively for the Spinnys club.

SPINNY ACES LOSE TO KASLICH BY ONE POINT.

The Spinnys Aces suffered their second defeat at home by losing to the Kaslich A. C. 25-27 at Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, Thursday night, when two extra periods were needed to settle the court clash that ended 23 all after 40 minutes of regulation playing. Dykes cased the winning foul for the Kaslich quintet.

Armory Basketball And Dance Tonight

Manager Melvin "Meb" Lynch's Wilbur Men's Club will invade the armory tonight with intentions of taking a fall out of the Battery A quintet in the regular weekly basketball feature scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Previous to the main event the Fuller Girls will play the Rosendale lassies in a promising battle slated for 7 o'clock. Dancing to the strains of the Paramount Broadcasting Orchestra will wind up the evening's program.

Wilbur will take the floor with the following men: Captain Mac Cardie, Mandy Collins and Manager "Meb" Lynch himself, forwards; Ed Scully and Jim Steigerwald, centers; Joe Wenzel and Joe Dulin, guards.

Ready to oppose the Lynchmen and defend the guidon of Battery A will be Randy Kiefer, and Tommy Lewis, forwards; "Buck" Zates, center; Bush (captain) and Chet Kiefer, guards.

The Wilbur club hopes to win tonight so that it may be better equipped for its scheduled tussle with the Rosendale Rerallies at Rosendale Saturday at 8 p. m. The Fuller Girls will play the Rosendale girls in a return match at 7 o'clock.

Comforter Teams Play Saturday

The Comforter Church basketball team expects plenty of keen opposition in its regular weekly game at home Saturday night when the Mid-Hudson Five of Poughkeepsie visits here with a lineup including some of the best courtsters in the Bridge City. In the brigade will be "Swat" Russell, shortstop of the old Colonials, playing center; Tom Gordon, Bill Deane, forwards; Becker, Leach and Pullen, guards.

In the Comforter lineup will be the regular defenders of the church club banner: Roosa, Williams, forwards; Van Bramer, center; Weber and Whitmore, guards. The overture to the main attraction will be played by the North Rondout A. C. and the Comforter Juniors and another preliminary will be staged between the Comforter Girls and the Highland lassies. The Comforters recently defeated the Rocknes of Stone Ridge, considered as one of the best feminine quintets hereabouts, by the tally of 13-5, as indicated by the following box score:

THE ONE ROAD

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

ONLY one road, after all,
In a world of thoroughfares,
Highways wide or pathways small,
Only one for which one cares:
The road, however far,
That leads to someone dear.

Only one road, though it start
Half round the world away,
Only one road leads the heart,
Calls the spirit, day by day,
To the heart of one we love,
And the fellowship of friends.

Only one road on the earth
Crosses land and crosses sea,
Only one road that is worth
All we are or aim to be,
Where it starts I know not of,
But one way it always leads:
To the heart of one we love,
And the fellowship of friends.

Pictureque India.
India, representing every stage in man's religious, political and artistic growth, is a world in itself. Mosques, temples, sanctuaries, shrines and cathedrals dot the land. The burning plains on the Ganges, India's method of burial, are interesting. The wealth of the relatives can be judged by the wood burned, due to its scarcity.

DUTCH ARMS LADIES' NIGHT BANQUET PROGRAM

New Paltz, Dec. 16—The Dutch Arms ladies' night banquet was held on Tuesday evening, December 13. After the dinner served by the Ladies' Aid in the Methodist Church, the company adjourned to the Normal School for the entertainment.

Prof. A. B. Bennett was in charge. On account of the storm the evening's speaker, who was from Indiana, had met with a mishap on the way from Highland Falls. Mr. Bennett did his best to amuse his audience, awaiting the speaker's arrival. The Normal School orchestra played "Beneath the Holly," a selection of Christmas songs arranged by Serey-Tocaben; "Jingle Bells" (march) by Albert Harvey, arranged by S. E. Morris. Mr. Bennett then read the play, "Meet the Misses," "Christmas Bells" (a reverie) by Roberta Hudson, arranged by J. S. Zamecznik, orchestra. Community singing, led by B. H. Mattoon, accompanied by the orchestra. "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Lend a Song" or "I've Been Working on the Railroad." Another number by the orchestra, and as the hour was growing late and the speaker had not yet arrived, Mr. Bennett read the play, "The Same Old Thing." Mr. Bennett expressed his regrets of the disappointment in the entertainment, yet held no one in any wise to blame. Those present left, having enjoyed the music and Mr. Bennett's readings and greatly appreciated the way Mr. Bennett carried out a program for the pleasure of the Dutch Arms and guests.

ST. REMY
St. Remy, Dec. 16—Services Sunday, December 18, will be as follows: Sunday school, 9:30; preaching by the pastor, the Rev. Philip Goertz, 10:30 a. m. Everyone will be welcome to these services.
The Community Club will give its Christmas entertainment for the children on Friday evening, December 23. The day school will also render its Christmas exercises the same time. An invitation is extended to all. Revamped French Army Sought To Stiffen Defense Of Borders

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
Paris (AP)—Joseph Paul-Boncour, minister of war, wants to reorganize the French army so that it may be more mighty in defending the country's frontiers against attack.

He indicated that he is going to do this irrespective of the fate of the French plan of disarmament at the Geneva conference.

Emphasizes "Defense"

"We French," said the minister, "wish to live in an atmosphere of national security and to feel at all times that our borders are proof against assault."

"We have no aggressive designs, but I have become convinced after conferences with high military officers that we must fortify our defensive strength. And," he added emphatically, "I want to emphasize the word 'defensive'."

M. Paul-Boncour already has convoked several sessions of the superior council of war to study the reorganization plan.

Man Power Decreasing

He is thinking too of 1935 when France will have fewer young men to call to the ranks. In that year the boys born during the World War are due to perform their military service of one year. The full effect of the great war upon the birth rate of France will be in evidence when that call comes.

The war minister is convinced that he can reorganize the army without increasing either the number of soldiers or the cost of maintaining the big military machine.

"In fact," he said, "we may produce an organization essentially defensive with fewer soldiers and at less cost."

"What I am aiming at is a covering army which would assure the inviolability of our national borders. A short-term army furnished with automatic weapons of a power unknown in the great war, would be immensely powerful in protecting France against attack."

Beyond emphasizing the significance of automatic quick-firing weapons the minister said he was not yet in a position to reveal the scheme of organization. But he went as far as this:

"I believe in the possibility of defending our country by mobilizing our national army in its entirety. This system implies, however, a thorough instruction both of conscripts and reservists.

"It means minute attention to the problem of mobilization because necessarily the period of mobilization will be longer under a system of short term conscript service."

Books Closed On December War Debts

(By the Associated Press)

The books are closed on the mid-December war debt payments and the debts issue has become a problem of the future.

It centers in Washington where President Hoover is awaiting complete information before drafting a special message to Congress in which, it is expected, he will review the entire situation and suggest a procedure for dealing with the issue.

France has thrust the debt problem into the background for the moment, for the country is occupied with the efforts of Camille Chauvins to form a new government which will replace that of Premier Herriot. The sentiment of politicians and laymen is that after the domestic crisis is settled a conference should be called as quickly as possible to deal with the debts.

In London there appeared to be a feeling of relief that the December payment was out of the way, and of pride that the nation had met its obligation when it fell due. England too wants an international debt conference without delay.

From $495.00, up, F. O. B. Factory.

We have the 1933 Plymouth cars on our Showroom floor. Before buying a car selling under $1,000, be sure to investigate Plymouth's many exclusive features.

No other automobile in their price range can give you "Floating Power," which eliminates all motor vibration and is the greatest improvement in Motor Cars since electric starting. No other car has a double braking system, hydraulic on the service breaks applied to the four wheels, mechanical on the emergency brakes applied to the drive shaft.

Plymouth automobiles have Safety Steel Bodies the same as Pullman Coaches on the railroads. The Plymouth also has Oilite Springs that never squeak or require lubrication, Duplate Glass in the Wind Shields, 70 Horse Power Motor, Automatic Clutch and Free Wheeling, Full Width Tread and many other refinements not to be found in competing cars.

Be sure to see the Plymouth before you buy.
